The gospels we have were carefully vetted against a body of early church literature and the four gospels in the Bible are the most historically accurate, divinely inspired accounts of Christ. The good news of Jesus Christ is only good news if it's true. How are the gospels DIFFERENT? - The Bible Study Site It is difficult to know why God chose to have only four gospels written instead of two, six, or even twelve. The Bible also does not reveal why only two of the writers were among Jesus' original twelve disciples (Matthew and John) and the other two were not (Mark and Luke).

Why did God give us four Gospels? - GotQuestions.org The gospel of John, written by John the apostle, is distinct from the other three Gospels and contains much theological content in regard to the person of Christ and the meaning of faith. Matthew, Mark, and Luke are referred to as the "Synoptic Gospels" because of their similar styles and content and because they give a synopsis of the life of Christ.
